A PAINTED TIPI - ASSINIBOIN
from copyright photograph 1926 by E. S. Curtis

Pictured above is one of 722 plates now being housed in the Special Services area on the ground floor of the Cameron Library. These photographs are contained in portfolios which accompany a set of twenty volumes called, The North American Indians. This valuable set, which is extremely hard to come by, was purchased recently by the Library with funds made available by the Alumni Association.

The set, which was published between 1907 and 1930, was written and photographed by Edward S. Curtis, a man who lived with the Indians over a period of forty years and amassed data and photographs on some eighty tribes west of the Red, Assiniboine, and Missouri rivers. He began his enormous task at the age of 32. "I don't know how many tribes there are in the West", he said then, "but I want to make them live forever, in both photography and words ... I want to produce an irrefutable record of a race doomed to extinction - to show this Indian as he was in his normal noble life so people will know that he was no debauched vagabond but a man of proud stature and noble heritage." And this is precisely the story his volumes tell.

His work was financed through a $75,000 grant from J. Pierpont Morgan, the financier and philanthropist, and through a lecture tour, musicales, and a motion picture. It was edited by Frederick Webb Hodge with a Foreword by Theodore Roosevelt.

The printing of the twenty volumes with accompanying folios of "gold tone" prints was limited to 500 sets, all of which were subscribed to by individuals, university and other libraries, art institutions, and historical museums. Our set is one of these 500 and another set can be found at the Glenbow Foundation in Calgary.

Another major collection the Library has acquired recently is microfilm of the British Sessional Papers dating from 1731 to 1900. This is as complete a set of British parliamentary papers as exists anywhere in the world and is probably the best in Canada.

This collection will provide the official source material for all 19th Century history students in graduate studies or a serious honours program. All official government papers except the Hansard debates are recorded on these microfilms - public accounts, reports of Royal Commissions, bills which did not pass, and annual reports, to mention only a few. They can be found in the Microfilm room on the ground floor of the Cameron Library.

OTHER NEWS FROM THE LIBRARY

LIBRARY CARDS - The library is issuing plastic embossed library identification cards this session to be used in the process of charging out books. Faculty members will receive their cards about mid-October and are asked to carry them when using the library.

FINES - Beginning October 12, students with overdue books will be subject to fines. Fines are not applicable to faculty members but their cooperation is sought in returning books promptly.

RUTHERFORD UNDERGRADUATE LIBRARY The Rutherford Library has been made into an undergraduate library and houses a collection of the most used books in courses offered to junior students, supplemented by general books and standard reference treatises. Students should be encouraged to use the Rutherford Library rather than the Cameron Library when they wish to make minimal use of library materials. The Undergraduate Librarian is Mrs. Margaret Farnell formerly Interlibrary Loan Librarian. Mrs. Hanka Bednarski is the Reserve Reading Room Supervisor.

DISPLAYS - Cameron Library, main foyer - display on Universities and University histories; Rutherford Library, main foyer - computing science display; Education Library - old readers on display including McGuffey's readers, 1879 - 1920, Royal Canadian Reader Series, 1883, and Canadian Readers, 1922.

EXTENSION CLASSES

The Department of Extension evening class program gets underway during the last part of September and early part of October this fall. This is a non-credit program open to the general public which attracts some 3,000 students each year. University staff members have been taking an increasing interest in the subjects offered, since through this program a good opportunity is provided for staff members to hear staff members of other faculties and departments on their specialty. This year it will be possible for all faculty members, graduate students, and administrative staff to register in any of the evening classes by paying one-half of the regular fee. It is not possible for us to extend this privilege to spouses or members of the immediate family. Also, where classes are strictly limited, this privilege cannot be granted except under special circumstances. Anyone interested in applying to take any of the evening classes, or for that matter any extension course, short course, or workshop, should apply directly to the Director, Mr. Duncan Campbell, or the Assistant Director, Mr. Glen Eyford.

The program this year includes a number of intensive language courses in French, German, Spanish, Russian, Ukrainian, Italian, and Norwegian. In the humanities and the social sciences there will be courses on religion, philosophy, psychology, sociology, criminology, and anthropology. The offerings in history and public affairs are greatly increased this year, and include a course on the B.N.A. Act, Communism, the United Nations, and the History of Canada. There is the usual wide variety of courses in the fine arts, in drawing, painting, design, sculpture, ceramics, etc. In music there are courses in Ear Training and Sight Singing, Chamber Music Playing Sessions, What to Listen for in Music, and an interesting course on Wagner. The sciences are represented by courses in Organic Chemistry, Petroleum Geology, Fossils of Alberta, Astronomy, Botany, Zoology, and a course on Science and Society. In business and industrial training, courses are offered in Work Study, Operations Research, small business, law, managing investments, and effective reading. Any staff member who has not received a copy of the brochure describing these and many other Extension courses may obtain one by contacting the Department of Extension, local 298.

The following is a list of appointments and resignations of academic staff on the Edmonton campus approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors at their meeting held September 23, 1964.

FACULTY NOTES

• Educational Psychology 510, a post-graduate course conducted by Dr. C. M. Christensen for teachers who are counselling in schools, especially vocational schools, will now be conducted as an evening credit course as well as being part of the daytime program. The course began a year ago with the opening of the Education Building in which ten special counselling rooms were designed with taping facilities. These facilities, which are unique in Canada for these purposes, allow the student to record interviews with city school children and then confer immediately with a faculty advisor and follow the consequences through. It has been recognized by the Faculty and the University that this training is invaluable and very necessary for the training of counsellors in schools and the evening course is intended to provide the training for counsellors already teaching.

• The processing side of the Dairy Industry of Alberta has designated a minimum of $15,000 per year over a 3-year period to sponsor a research team in dairy technology at the University of Alberta. The team will study the problems of the dairy industry. A Research Associate will be appointed, who in turn will appoint a team to work under him, using the facilities of the Department of Dairy Science.

Parking:

In an effort to ease the current parking congestion (or, in some cases, lack of parking space) for staff members, two new parking areas will be opened for staff shortly. One area which will hold 68 cars will be located directly west of the Education Building. It will be paved and have outlets. Staff wishing to reserve stalls here should contact Mr. Edmonds, main floor, Administration Bldg. The other area will be the northwest corner of the land located east of the Faculty Club. This lot, holding 46 cars, will be used for Faculty Club members, and staff in Agricultural Economics. There will be no outlets here, and no reserve parking.

Another new parking area which is already in use is that located west of the Old Education Building serving the Schools of Nursing, Rehabilitation Medicine, and the Division of Drama.

• Professor A. R. Thompson of the Faculty of Law, whose special interest is oil and gas law, has been invited to teach land titles and mineral law at the University of Auckland, New Zealand, during 1967. He will also visit Australia in order to gain a first-hand acquaintance with the important oil and gas developments taking place in that part of the world.

C. D. HOWE MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIPS

A group of friends of the late C. D. Howe have created a Memorial Foundation and offer 3 awards yearly to be known as the C. D. Howe Memorial Fellowships. The postdoctoral awards, tenable initially in 1964-65 at a location suitable to the program of work to be undertaken, are for the "assistance and encouragement of those who have completed their formal education and whose unusual capacities of mind and character give promise of leadership and decisive achievement in their fields of learning and endeavour". The awards are worth $5,000 plus reasonable travel expenses and an additional allowance of $2,000 where applicable for family travel expenses. Applicants must be Canadian citizens or have normal residence in Canada. They may either be nominated by an institution or make direct application to Director of Awards, Canadian Universities Foundation 75 Albert Street, Ottawa. Applications must arrive at this address in quadruplicate no later than November 7th, 1964.

• The Provost, Professor A. A. Ryan, wishes to remind faculty members who have association with student organizations which are concerned with the posting of handbills and signs, that the following rules apply:

- (1) No signs are to be tacked on trees.
- (2) The Administration Building, Library, and Cafeterias are to be kept free of signs and posters.
- (3) Masking tape rather than cellulose tape should be used on painted walls. Thumb tacks should be avoided on woodwork.
- (4) Use non-toxic dyes when lettering on snow.

• Pianos, anyone?? The Music Division is badly in need of pianos for practise purposes. Currently, the Division has 4 grand pianos and 5 uprights, but only 3 are available for practise, the others being used for teaching and staff study purposes. This winter, the Division will have a record number of 35 students studying piano. Three practise pianos will not go far. Faculty members who are able to donate or loan pianos to the Music Division should contact Professor R. S. Eaton, Extension 263.

• Faculty members are reminded that the Information Office has made available to them a lightweight aluminum display board and stand with carrying case. The board, stand and case together weigh approximately 31 lbs. The display board unfolds to a size measuring 6 feet by 9 feet and may be stood on a table rather than the stand if preferred. It is available for staff who wish to show displays concerning the University at out-of-town locations.

• Sir Winston Churchill's The Island Race, a superbly illustrated volume recording much of Britain's turbulent history will be published November 23 for $26.15 and will be available at the Bookstore shortly afterwards. The Bookstore will offer six volumes for sale at a special prepublication price of $21.85. Faculty members must place their orders now in order to receive a volume at this discount price.
